Nationality: British & French

I am a dedicated second-year Computing student at Bath Spa University with experience in retail, hospitality, and web/software development. I am highly motivated, adaptable, and always eager to learn new skills.
I am very active and enjoy rock climbing and cycling in my spare time. I'm friendly and approachable and I strive to do the best I can in all situations.
I was a member of the Army Cadets at the 151 and 156 detachments where I reached the rank of Lance Corporal which came with many responsibilities such as planning lessons, supervising activities and teaching others a variety of different things from firearm safety to playing musical instruments.
